THE DREDGING OF THE HARBOR.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-Noticing in the HERALD report of the proceedings of the Department of Docks a statement which seems to point to the Phot Commissioners as the cause of the non-dredging of the slips I deem it proper to state that by a law of the State it is ovided that the mud taken from the slips shall be deposited inside of a bulkhead for filling, or on the land above high water mark, or in a place designated by the Pilot Commissioners. In the exercise of this discretion, and to save expense to owners of slips, the Pilot Commissioners have for fifteen years allowed dredgings to be deposited in the deep channelway, below Oyster Island, in the hope that it would either be carried out to sea by the current of the North River or spread over the Jersey flats. Recent surveys having proved that the mud is all brought back by the undercurrent and spread along the bottom of the channel, filling it up with alarming rapidity, it has become necessary to stop the practice, and orders have been issued to that effect. In the harbors of Great Britain this material is carried out to sea. In Cork harbor, Ireland, it is towed two miles out to sea, fiften miles from the city, and this being the only safe way to dispose of it the bock Department has been requested to initiate the practice, which, however, it does not seem disposed to do, preferring, evidently, to fill up the channels. The question is simply this:—Shall we, to save expense to the owners of docks, fill up our channels now, and when we have thus ruined them, dredge them out at the public expense? Or shall we so dispose of the dredgings that we shall have no more trouble with them?

EDUCATION OF CRIME-A PARENT'S APPEAL TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD :-

I take the liberty of asking you if there is any thing in New York like law for the suppression of gambling, swindling, defaulting, &c. To satisfy myself the other evening I entered two places of great notoriety in Clinton place, and where, to my astonishment, I beheld lawyers, merchants, cierks, pickpockets and even officials of our police al₁ playing a game called keno. I inquired of several men, whom I thought were a little respectable, if they were not afraid to remain in a place of this kind, as I heard that the police captured them once they were not afraid to remain in a place of this kind, as I heard that the police captured them once in a while, when these men told me that all things were fixed with the captain and officers of that precinct; that they were well staked, and did not dare to pull the place for their own sake.

Now, I think it will be worth your while to send a reporter there some evening and give a full account of the transactions that occur in a place of this kind. There you see not only men of all grades and professions, but even boys not over fifteen or sixteen years of age, indulging in these games of chance, who, even if they do win, are only encouraged to go oftener and lose all they won, and probably rob their employers to play again, to win what they have lost. Oh! how it would break a fond father's or mother's heart lifthey could only see their darling thus engaged, who, as they thought, went to hear a lecture, see a friend, or went to the library! Yes, if they only knew that instead of going to these places, that they (the darlings) deceived their parents and went to a first class gambling hell, where one vice leads to another, such as chewing, drinking, cursing at their loss, &c., during the entire time they play! My sons go out of an evening, and I have never traced them before; but I shall for the future until I am satisfied they don't visit these places; and if I ever catch one or either of them going in, or in one of these hells, all I have to say is God help them, they will never be able to enter another one. Now, is there or is there not a way to break up these hells upon earth? Will you, in the name of God, publish something so that it may come before the eyes of respectable men and the proper autnorities, if they have any conscience at all, to crush these hells so that they may never rise again? at all, to crush these rises again?

Hoping and trusting that, through Providence and the influence of the Herald these places shall be demoished like Pompeil, I remain yours, respectfully, REFORMATION AND JUSTICE.

NEW YORK, May 9, 1872. HIGHWAYMEN AT WORK.

James Johnson, a bricklayer, nineteen years of age, of 108 Bowery, and Joseph Clark, a printer, of the same age, residing at 45 East Brondway, were arrested by Officer Stewart, of the Eighth precinct, yesterday, upon complaint of a young man named Michael W. Brew, of 32 Norfolk street, who charges that, while passing through Greene street, near Houston, they caught hold of him, put their hands Houston, they exignt hold of him, put their hands in his pockets and attempted to rob him; but finding only ten cents in his pocket became so enraged they has them and tore his ciethes. A gang of rufflans followed the prisoners to the Jefferson Market Police Court in a half intoxicated condition, and acted in such a disorderly manner that the Court officers were compelled to eject them from the room. The accused denied the charge preferred against them, but were locked up by Justice Cox in default of $2,000 balt each. The complainant was sent to the House of Detention to insure his appearance against the prisoners.

CHARGED WITH RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS.

Warner, No. 145 West Fifteenth street, was entered by burglars and property valued at $300 carried off. Yesterday morning, as Mr. Warner was passing the pawn shop of Peter Glos, at No. 30 West Pourth street, he observed a pair of opera glasses in his window which he recognized as a portion of in his window which he recognized as a house, the property that had been stolen from his house. Glos was arrested by Onlicers Henderson and Palmer, of the Fitteenth precinct, and arraigned before Justice Cox, at Jenerson Market. He admitted purchasing the property, but claimed be did not know it was stolen. He was held for examination.
